

The Privacy Panel

Cookie Policy

Updated February 24, 2024

Our website is primarily informational. It describes who we are and what we do. It does not require login or entry of information by or about any of our site visitors and does not perform any other active data collection.

Our site does however passively collect some information about your visit to establish, protect and manage your your visit. Our host WIX does this through the deployment of First Party Essential Cookies, cookies that are required for their effective hosting of our site. Most of these cookies are session based and transient and will be deleted at the end of your visit to our site. Some will persist until expiration unless cleared by you.

The Privacy Panel disallows Third Party cookies and trackers.

- We do not deliberately allow any Third Party to deploy any technical device intended to collect or share any information about you except for activities performed or provided on our behalf by our hosting partner to establish your session and maintain security and the viability of your visit.
- We regularly scan our website, (at least monthly) to assure that third parties have not circumvented our policies and settings and that 3rd party cookies are not operative on our site.
- We will use readily available commercial tools to perform the scans of our website.

Our most recent scan performed February 15, 2024 revealed:

- WIX deployed 5 First Party Essential cookies. First party means that these are cookies deployed to enable your visit. These cookies are:
 - Hs - Cookie Essential for Security. Session.
 - XSRF-TOKEN - Cookie Essential for Security. Session.
 - SSR-Caching - Used to collect system information for the site. Essential. Persists 1 minute.
 - bSession - System Effectiveness Measurement. Essential. Persists for 30 minutes.
 - svSession – is classed by WIX as Essential. Associated to the login process and deploys by default. This cookie persists until expiration. As of this scan on 2/15/2024 expiry is 03/21/2025.
- No Third party cookies were identified.
- No unclassified cookies were detected

As we do not currently deploy non-essential cookies we do require or request and manage consent.

If you wish to contact us, or have questions or concerns, you can do so by email at Hello@ThePrivacyPanel.Com.